

Julian Hilton-Johnson

Chief of Staff to President McDonald's Europe & VP Corporate Relations

Julian Hilton-Johnson is Chief of Staff to Denis Hennequin, President – McDonald's Europe, and VP Corporate Relations. Julian joined McDonald's UK in 1999, becoming Vice President - Corporate Affairs in 2001. In 2007 he was appointed Chief of Staff to Steve Easterbrook, President - Northern Division, McDonald's Europe and assumed responsibility for Corporate Affairs in the Northern Division.

In the UK, Julian chaired the Company Pension Scheme and was a Trustee and Company Secretary of Ronald McDonald House Charities.

In 2008, Julian was appointed Chief of Staff and VP - Corporate Relations for McDonald's Europe. He also assumed responsibility for Human Resources at European level. The European Communications, Government Relations and HR teams report to him.

Prior to McDonald's, Julian held positions within Diageo at Burger King Europe, Middle East, Africa, at Freshfields, solicitors in London and Madrid, and was a Research Assistant at the House of Commons.